Joel and Cristian attempt to go up the slide backwards.

"Are we there yet?"

Mark and Luz spend their free time doing a homework assignment.

Liz and Dennise Pineda plan a special song for the evening service at camp.

During a candy-sale outing, Aracely, Jenny, and Jazmin take a memorable picture in front of Mt. Rushmore.

Alex and Ervin raise the flag for the opening pledge at school camp.

After "accidentally" falling from his paddle boat, Luis swims to the dock.

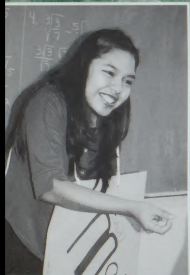

With very wide mouths, Sandra and Norma try to catch falling snowflakes.

Hoping to win a contest for the juniors, Lili and Ana carefully carve a pumpkin.

OVERCOMER SPIRIT

During an English speech, Maui Lu explains how one bag of M&M's can be very valuable in the life of a City Baptist student.

Captain Lewis leads his herd of happy hikers through the treacherous trails.

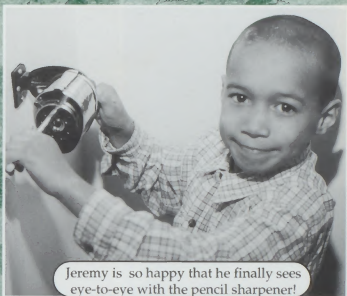

"Are you sure this map isn't upside down?"

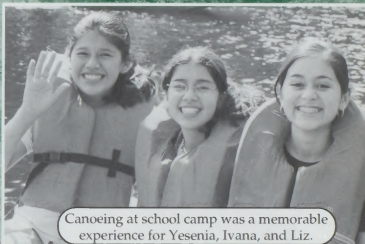

Patriotism is proudly displayed on the faces of Tonara, Anayeb, and Magaly, three spirited freshmen.

Some seniors share a fun moment at the Jog-a-thon.

Jeremy is so happy that he finally sees eye-to-eye with the pencil sharpener!

Canoeing at school camp was a memorable experience for Yesenia, Ivana, and Liz.

Sitting atop Mt. Baldy on a windy day, these high school girls smile through frozen lips and one would never know it.

A trademark of Miss Williams is her ability to have fun.

An 18 month old Miss Williams' smile radiates the room.

On the last day of school, Miss Williams stands with a few of her students (two of the students, Ricky and Mark, are part of this year's graduating class).

Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams stand proudly with their daughter at her college graduation.

Dedication

Many young children and teenagers imagine their futures, and what great things God will accomplish in their lives. Denise Williams had always dreamed of working with young people from the inner-city. She wanted to reach out to those stricken with poverty, and instill in them a desire to learn and succeed.

Denise Williams was born on February 3, 1968, in Canton, Ohio. She was saved as a teenager after attending Youth Conference at First Baptist Church. Upon graduation from Hyles-Anderson College, Denise Williams's childhood dream was about to become a reality. She was asked to become the sixth-grade teacher at City Baptist Schools, a school for the inner-city young people from Chicago. Since 1991, Miss Williams has devoted her life to making a difference in the lives of scores of young people. When asked what she enjoys most about teaching at City Baptist, Miss Williams replied, "The students are the best part. Sometimes, I just look at my classroom full of students, and I am overwhelmed that I get to be a teacher in this great ministry. Each day I look forward to teaching because of the wonderful students we have." Miss Williams has a talent for making each student that sits in her classroom feel uniquely loved. Each student that leaves her classroom receives letters, candy, and special treats from their former teacher until the day he graduates from City Baptist. One may never see the many lives changed by the impeccable example of Miss Williams; but one thing is sure, that Miss Denise Williams is living proof that to teach truly is to touch a life forever.

Miss Williams makes a memory with her very first sixth-grade class. Many of her first-year students are attending Hyles-Anderson College and still actively involved in First Baptist Church.

Dr. Jack Hyles takes an anniversary picture with his wife, Beverly Hyles.

The seniors enjoy celebrating Bro. Schaap's birthday with him.

Jose Rivera takes us back in time as he gives a speech on our forefathers.

Diana Pacheco gives her speech with great expression.

Computer class prepares students like Melissa Alegria for college.

Bible time in Mr. Louis Allen's class is always alot of fun for Jesus Gonzalez.

Denisse Ramirez takes time to make sure that every number is copied correctly.

Discussing the details of the life of a fish, Ely proudly displays her goldfish that she won on Sunday.

Yadira helps Erie as he works a math problem.

Many students like Sammy, utilize their lunch hour to work on homework.

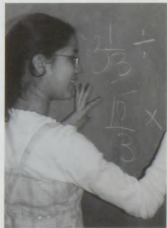

Julie very gingerly discovers the interior of an unaware amphibian

Mr. Allen pets Abel Medran's visual aid for his science project.

Before school begins, Romel studies some information for science.

Determined to win the math race at the board, Ivana quickly computes the fraction in her head.

In Home Economics class, Luz mixes the cookie dough used to bake dozens of cookies for Pastors' School.

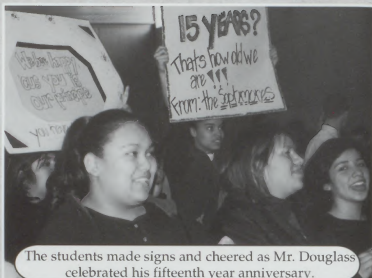

In English class, Gustavo sells himself as a great book for Baptist preachers.

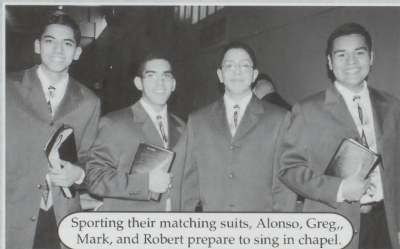

CHAPEL

Jay, Alex, Alonso, and Ivan wait to have their Bibles signed by Dr. Evans.

The students made signs and cheered as Mr. Douglass celebrated his fifteenth year anniversary.

Sporting their matching suits, Alonso, Greg, Mark, and Robert prepare to sing in chapel.

Mr. Douglass' enthusiastic spirit generates throughout the student body.

During Bro. Jeff Owens visit to chapel, he was presented a suit and many other gifts as a "Thank You" for his service to City Baptist.

Mr. Ron Gensaw and his family, missionaries to Nigeria, entertain the students with music from their country.

In an eventful chapel service at Hammond Baptist, Bro. Eddie laughed as the students dressed Mr. Douglass up as Santa Claus and Ricky as his trusty reindeer.

Bro. Cassada, a church staff member, preached a heart stirring message to the students.

Dr. John Francis is a frequent and favorite speaker in our services.

Bro. Dan Wolfe, a college staff member, was our honored guest for chapel one day.

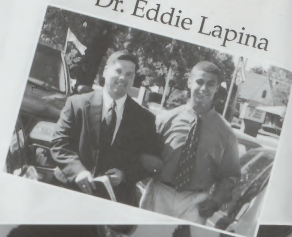

Many college staff men, like Bro. Mike Borsch, blessed the hearts of the students with their sermons.

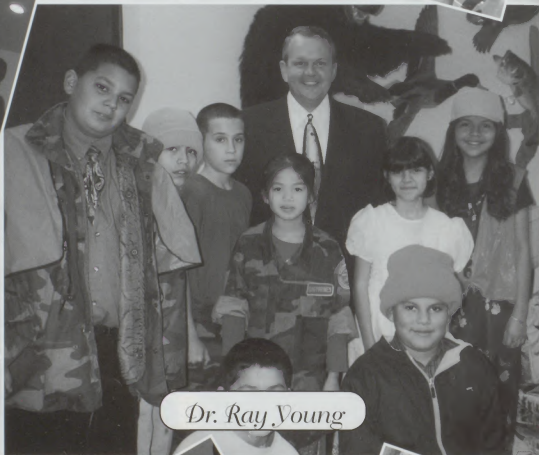

After preaching in chapel, Bro. Hooker is surrounded by a swarm of Bibles.

Clubs and Groups

A word of explanation concerning our clubs and groups --

Overcomer Ensemble: a singing group for high school students

Melodies of Praise: a ladies' singing group

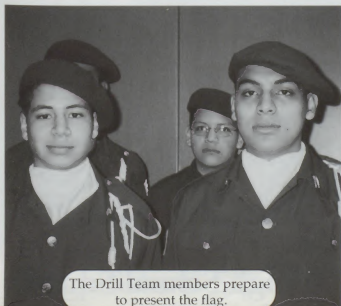

Kitchen Workers: help prepare, serve, and clean up during lunch

The Master's Hand: a singing group for eighth and ninth grade students

Drill Team: a patriotic, military-type group taught to care for the flag

Heartstrings: a group for girls taught in the designing of crafts

Overcomer Order: a girls' service group

The Drill Team members prepare to present the flag.

Anthony signals his team to make a play.

Anthony does not allow Tito to intimidate him as he glides in for the score.

Jay Rosario has complete control of the ball as he drives in for a "lay-up."

With an aggressive slide, Greg prevents Giovanni from making a goal.

"We're on the same team!" says Jerry as Nelson, his teammate, tries to steal the ball.

Marlon drives hard to the basket.

Noel slides in for a goal.

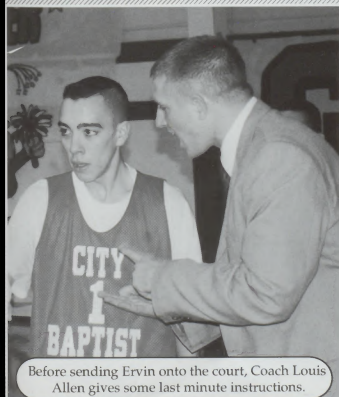

With his face full of intensity, Alex tries to lead his team to victory.

Nelson refuses to allow Leo to score without a fight.

Jesus Valladares protects the ball from his opponent.

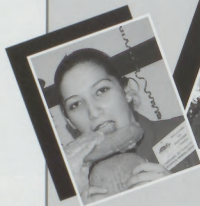

Before sending Ervin onto the court, Coach Louis Allen gives some last minute instructions.

In an attempt to score, Giovanni sprints down the field.

Activities

Welcome Back Smiling Faces!

Would somebody please tell Luz she is playing golf and not baseball?

The freshmen get excited during a game of keep away.

Mr. Torres happily leads the singing for the opening chapel service.

The guys clamor for the candy being thrown from the platform.

These sophomore girls finish the registration line with a smile.

As he descends from the bus, a new student, Romel Bonilla, is welcomed by a clown.

During a game of Guesstures, Robert demonstrates what it is like to smell Mr. Lewis' sneakers.

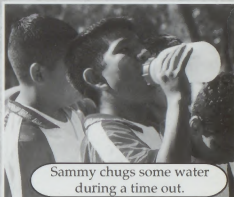

Soccer Game

This year's soccer game against Hammond Baptist was an action-packed, down to the wire victory for City Baptist.

Leo gives his all.

Sammy chugs some water during a time out.

Keeping his eye on the ball, Israel attempts to side step Drew Reddick.

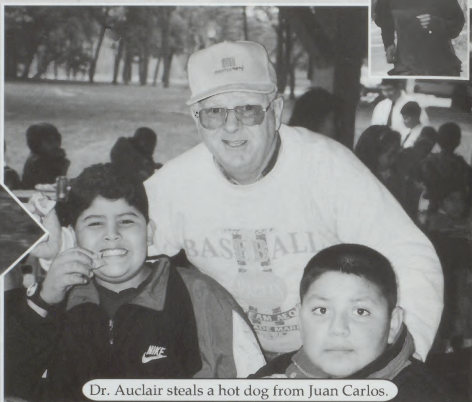

"Peek-a-boo, I see you!"

As they watch the game, Gaby, Kathy, and Amatista dream of the day when they, too, can be cheerleaders.

Jog-a-thon

The Jog-a-thon is a schoolwide fundraiser where the students raise money to help the Intramural sports program.

Sammy completes the five-mile race in first place.

Dr. Auclair steals a hot dog from Juan Carlos.

Neomi keeps a big smile on her face as she jogs.

Anayeli, Lizbeth, and Jessica offer to share their well-chewed food.

Mayra and Yadira decide to "jog" their five miles at a leisurely pace.

Luis enjoys keeping pace with the older boys.

"Just one more lap to go!" these ladies boast.

"Trust me,
I'll catch
you" says
Luz.

Some middle-school girls try the buddy system to finish their laps more quickly.

Waiting for lunch to be served, Henry and Richard look for tadpoles in the lake.

"Calm down girls, we're not in junior high anymore" says Jenny to Beatriz and Norma.

School Camp

The students enjoyed the first school camp in the history of City Baptist Schools. Bro. Tom Manbeck, pastor of the Good Shepherd Baptist Church in Terre Haute, Indiana, was the guest speaker. Many exciting activities and beautiful weather made an unforgettable week for students and staff alike.

"If I kiss the frog, will I become a prince?" thinks Erie.

"We've got to push this where?"

Miglissa and Miss Loyd sit atop the leafy creation the sophomore girls made of her bed.

"Now this is our idea of an education," think Marisol and Rosa during a science lecture.

The senior men prepare for an "ambush."

Vicky and Gladys relax under the trees before dinner.

Mr. Douglass appears to be planning a mischievous move.

"Just one more push and we win!"

During an evening bonfire, Leticia's shoulder makes the perfect pillow for Yadira.

The senior class enjoys a special moment with Pastor Manbeck.

Some junior men nervously embark on a journey through the wetlands.

These senior men get excited about singing, "It Was on a Sunday Somebody Touched Me" during the evening service.

CANDY SALES

This year's top candy sellers were rewarded with many spectacular trips. Our top sellers from the fall enjoyed a one week stay in South Dakota featuring a tour of Mount Rushmore. Our top sellers from the spring were able to spend one week in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. Other special trips included the Mall of America in Minnesota, Six Flags Great America, and Turkey Run State Park.

Hats off to all the students who made this years candy sales a success.

Erie scales to the utmost height of Mt. Baldy.

"Watch out Mt. Rushmore, here we come!"

The Indiana Dunes was the perfect place for a game of frisbee.

"Are you sure you know what your're doing?" asks Liz

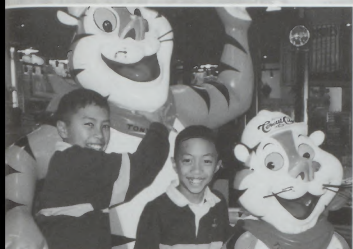

These girls display their carefully sculpted pumpkins.

Frankie Mercado prays for a strike.

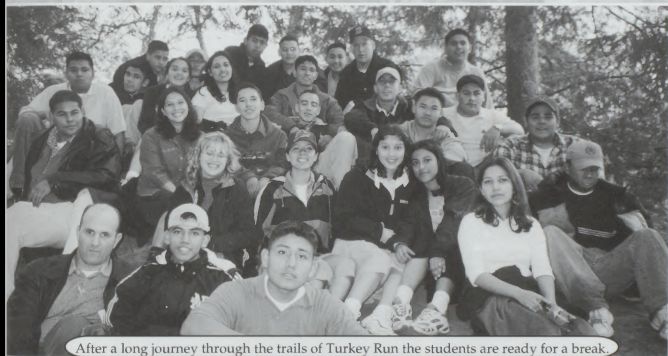

Leading the pack, Jenny speeds around the corner.

The Odal brothers, Bryan and Michael visit Tony the tiger at the Kellogs museum in Battle Creek, Michigan.

"This is how a Puerto Rican eats icecream!" explains Tito to Thy.

After a long journey through the trails of Turkey Run the students are ready for a break.

Iesha, Amanda, and Diana challenge anyone to a game of bowling.

These grade-school students came bundled up and ready for a frigid day atop the Indiana Dunes.

"Why go back for seconds when you have two hands?" thinks Noel.

Edgar, Francisco, Isaac, and Jose stand at the entrance to Camp Snoopy, an amusement park in the Mall of America.

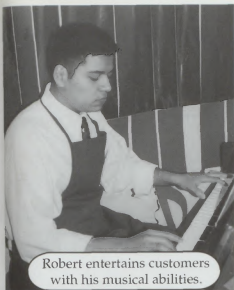

"Go ahead, make my day!" exclaims Alex during a game of laser tag.

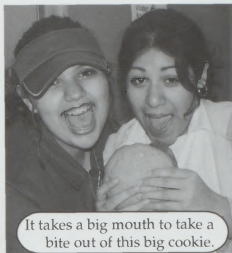

Gustavo, Marco, and Richie start to feel a little queezy after riding this spinning attraction ten times.

Pastors' School

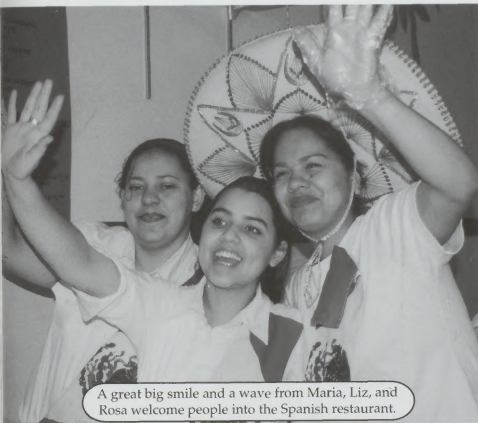

Robert entertains customers with his musical abilities.

It takes a big mouth to take a bite out of this big cookie.

Anayeli eagerly volunteered to sample the tostadas.

A great big smile and a wave from Maria, Liz, and Rosa welcome people into the Spanish restaurant.

Alex and Greg worked hard all week making sure that there was plenty of ice cream for all to enjoy.

As customers entered the ice cream room, they were serenaded by these ladies.

Thanksgiving

The Best Years members cooked up quite a Thanksgiving feast for the entire student body. All-you-could-eat turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn, green beans, cranberry sauce, rolls and lots of delicious desserts made it a meal to remember. The Best Years Club is a group of senior citizens from First Baptist Church.

"Can you ask the Best Years to cook our lunch everyday?" asks Noel.

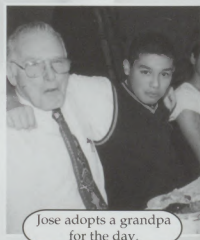

The Singing Hobos entertain the Best Years Club with songs of the past.

Rosa graciously serves rolls to the Best Years Club.

These girls show the Best Years how the train "Chug Chugs."

Jose adopts a grandpa for the day.

Hobo Greg gives a grade-school boy some of his "specially-aged" lunch. "welcome chant" of our cheerleaders.

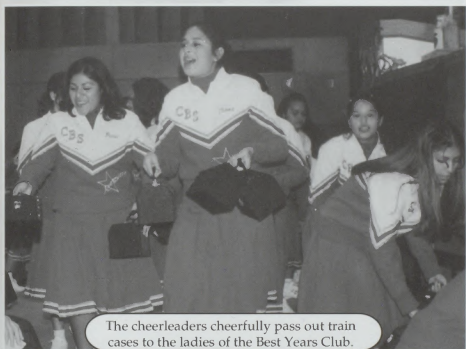

Ervin escorts Mrs. Sutkowski

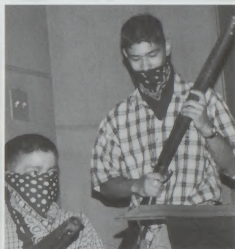

These three smiling train engineers brighten the Best Year's day.

"Extra, Extra, read all about it, Best Years are the best and we're gonna shout it!" exclaim Norma and Isabel as they pass out newspapers.

The cheerleaders cheerfully pass out train cases to the ladies of the Best Years Club.

Two high school train robbers bravely attack the Cleveland-bound train.

These girls mouths are surely salivating as they watch their feast being mounded on their plates.

Dr. Auclair, alias Chef Boyardee, samples the turkey.

Christmas

Christmas is a time of fun, sharing, and caring at City Baptist Schools. Each class enjoys a gift exchange and a day of fun activities. Each class also does something special for someone else.

Miss Hibbard proudly displays the candle set that the seniors bought for her.

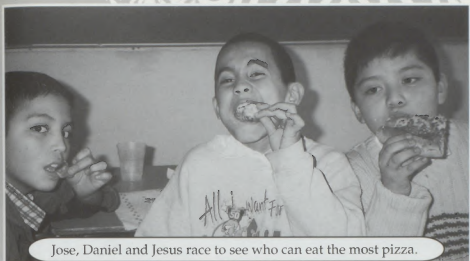

These sophomore girls challenge anyone to a skating competition.

Diamond gives her friend Angelynn a hug and a doll for Christmas.

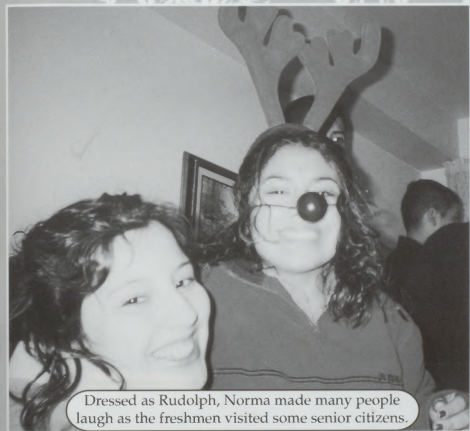

Is this what you call "the blind leading the blind?"

Jose, Daniel and Jesus race to see who can eat the most pizza.

Jerry made a new friend with Mrs. Snyder when the freshmen stopped by her home.

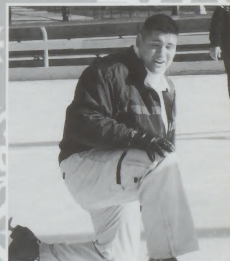

Dressed as Rudolph, Norma made many people laugh as the freshmen visited some senior citizens.

Arthur is ready to show some great bowling techniques!

The seniors "chow down" at Baker's Square before opening their gifts.

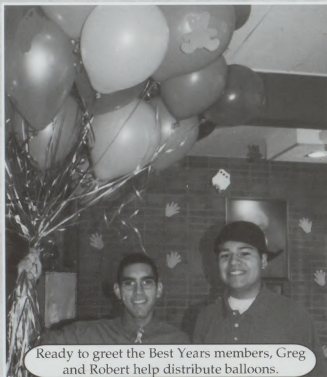

Abel perfects the art of falling gracefully.

Love Luncheon

The Best Years members entered the City Baptist building only to catch a glimpse of their past. This year's theme was "In the Eyes of a Child." We played childish games such as jacks, jump rope, bubbles, and race cars. We sang children's songs such as Five Little Monkeys, Do you know the Opposites, and Teddy Bear, Teddy Bear. The entire program was centered around a giant life-size game of Candy Land.

Doing their best to synchronize their jumps, Melina and Ana entertain the Best Years with a round of "Double Dutch."

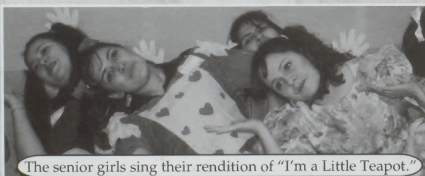

Ready to greet the Best Years members, Greg and Robert help distribute balloons.

With licorice in hand, Lili gives her perception of "mean mommy."

"Will someone come play with me?" ask little Marilu.

The senior girls sing their rendition of "I'm a Little Teapot."

Maria is clearly annoyed at the childish behavior of Melina and Liz.

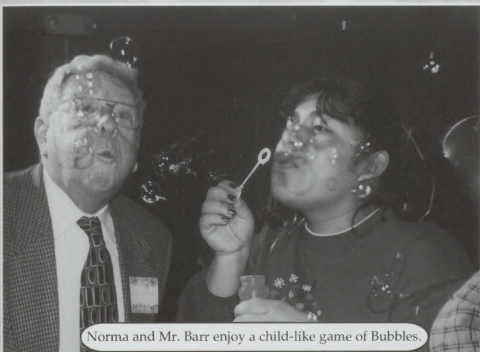

Who would have guessed that it took Eunice 916 licks to get to the center of her Tootsie Pop?

Elizabeth eagerly serves her "happy sandwich" at the Love Luncheon.

Mrs. Steffey cheers her race car on as Rosa's is rapidly approaching.

Norma and Mr. Barr enjoy a child-like game of Bubbles.

Ervin the Clown attempts to make someone laugh with his silly antics.

Jessica, dressed as a little princess, explains the game of Jacks.

Luz and Ana teach us their interpretation of the peanut brittle recipe.

Walk- A- Thon

Yesenia and Marian practice being "balanced" young ladies.

"Who says playgrounds are for kids?" think Amanda and Iesha.

Mariella makes the five mile walk a cinch for Esmeralda.

The seniors spend their final Walk-a-thon together.

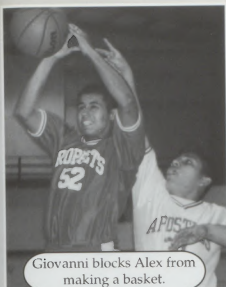

Israel Andujar hopes to catch a mid-morning snack.

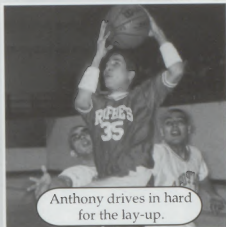

"Are we there yet?"

Winter Rally

Giovanni blocks Alex from making a basket.

Anthony drives in hard for the lay-up.

"Lady bus workers," like Miss Linda Young, make it a special evening for Rhea.

The cheerleaders boldly wave the flag as they sing the National Anthem.

Towering above the other players, Tito Gerena plays aggressive defense.

Noel Orellano eagerly helps Bro. Mark Pfeiffer announce the game.

Senior Trip to Arizona!

Greg and Jay stand amidst the masterfully landscaped garden of La Quinta Inn.

While at the Grand Canyon, Alex stops to marvel in the beauty of God's creation.

Mrs. Deanda and these senior girls make a memory at the beautiful Grand Canyon.

While stopping to fuel the vans, these seniors have a little fun in Bedrock City, a roadside attraction.

The seniors eagerly pose in their matching shirts at Sedona, Arizona

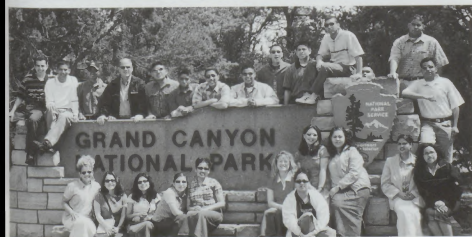

On a blistering hot day, Alonso cools off at Slide River State Park.

The entire group pauses for a picture with an extraordinary view of the Grand Canyon beneath.

Looking out at Saguaro Lake, Dennise says to Melissa, "I'll jump in if you will."

The seniors will never forget the marvellous sites seen in the Grand Canyon.

Alex and Alonso test the load limit on this bell at Hermits Rest in the Grand Canyon.

Miss Loyd and some eighth-grade girls enjoy crawling inside a skeleton.

Four special shows like Olivia Magazine (Liz's Day Fashion), Weddings in New Year's celebrations (Liz says it's beautiful), Let's go to Brazil!

At the Childrens' Museum, Liz experiences clothing from different cultures.

Roasting hotdogs and marshmallows in the wilderness is not an everyday experience for these Chicago kids.

"Now this is our idea of an eighth-grade graduation present!" says Ivana and America.

The eighth graders, along with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Redmond, take a moment to remember their day.

"Move out of the way, I'm coming through!"

In a short moment of solitude Ray Marco enjoys picking out a new song on his guitar.

Homecoming Day 2001

Tito Gerena gives a hearty "overcome" squeeze to his mom.

Sintia, Maria, and Dennise, senior cheerleaders, proudly display their plaques given them by Miss Hibbard.

Bro. Brian Hasse, our guest speaker for the evening, and Mr. Douglass stand together on the platform.

Ivana Cardona, our junior high princess, smiles brightly for the camera.

Standing in the spotlight, Dennise Pineda is honored to receive her crowning as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Loyd volunteered her evening to serve the students.

Marco boasts that he has the best "date" in the room (an imaginary one).

"If he eats like this when I am around, I wonder what he eats like when I'm not around," thinks Mrs. Mercado, Alex's mom.

The men's championship basketball team display their trophies.

Luz Aguirre is crowned the Senior High Princess.

The entire homecoming court is accompanied by their escorts.

A Fantastic Finale

An exciting school year was capped off with an exciting ending. On Wednesday, many students were presented with awards of achievement for academic excellence. On Thursday, the 6th -12th grades enjoyed a memorable field day at Lemon Lake Park. Friday was spent cleaning lockers and classrooms. A special thanks to students and staff for a wonderful school year.

Fredy Uruchima aggressively completes the obstacle course.

Ivan, Jay, and Alex make one last trip to Mr. Douglass' office.

Eunice Melecio empties out her locker.

Maria and Yahira display their awards for Home Economics class.

The senior mens' quartet sings one last time.

The Reyes siblings, Thalia, Sasha, and Oscar all won the perfect attendance award.

Israel entertains student with his Science fair project

Jenny Rascon displays her Science project on Quicksand.

"Why won't Miss Santiago give me a hug?" asks Sarahi Bear.

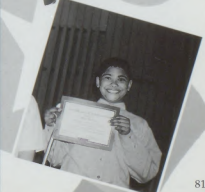

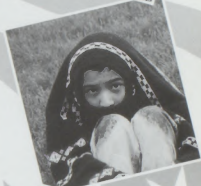

Boys will be boys!

Maria and Elizabeth race for the finish line.

After a day of vigorous activities, these boys are ready to eat!

As the graduating class of 2002 sat in the Adams Chapel, the tears were already streaming down many a cheek. The graduates sang together as they waited for their preacher, Dr. Schaap and principal, Mr. Douglass to shed some light on what seemed to be a dreary day. Unique to this graduating class is the fact that 15 of the 21 graduating seniors have attended City Baptist together since the sixth grade. For many seniors across the country, graduation is a day of excitement to finally be finished with all of the headaches of high school. Although our seniors were excited about what they had accomplished, they expressed deep sadness as they parted with a school, a staff, and friends that they had grown to love so dearly. It was also a very emotional day in the lives of the staff and faculty as they said final goodbyes to the lives which they have influenced for many years. The staff realized that when the doors of City Baptist swing open next fall, no longer will the graduates pass through them; no longer will the classrooms be filled with their laughter, no longer will their smiles brighten the buses on a cold, dreary morning.

Although the class of 2002 will be greatly missed, all those who have played a part in molding the lives of these young people anticipate watching them put into practice what they have been taught, trained, and instructed to do. Graduates, many people have invested in your life to make this special day possible. "Go thou and do likewise."

These "male busworkers" surround Marisol Martinez, a graduate from their division.

Dr. Kevin Cowling, a pastor in Arizona, presented the students with a heart-stirring message.

"Let the celebration begin!"

"We did it!" boast these graduates.

Miss Santiago gives a congratulatory hug to Ivana Cardona, a rider from her bus route.

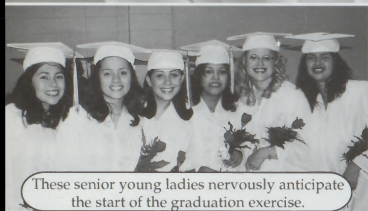

Mr. Lewis, and the Odal brothers congratulate Rhea on a job well done.

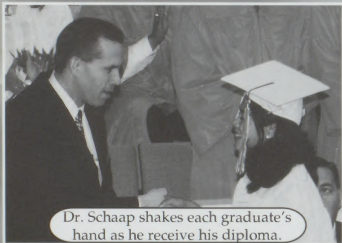

The Alvarez family has great reason to be proud of their daughter, Sintia Alvarez.

"What's so big about being a graduate anyway?" thinks Zach Foust, Jr. as he sits upon the knee of Richie Lopez.

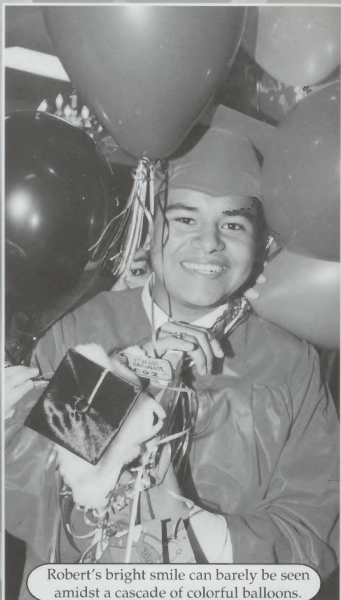

These senior young ladies nervously anticipate the start of the graduation exercise.

Dr. Schaap shakes each graduate's hand as he receives his diploma.

Susana Orduno and Suzy Zamudia are glad that their special day has finally arrived.

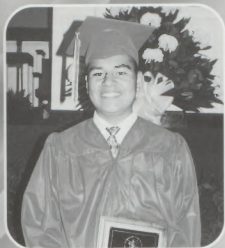

Robert's bright smile can barely be seen amidst a cascade of colorful balloons.

Graduates Ivan and David Garcia stand proudly with their brother, also a City Baptist graduate.
